Report

The Department of English organized a Guest Lecture on “Technical English for Professional Aspirants” by KBN Alumni on 1st February, 2020 at 2.00 pm. Dr. B. Neelambaram, Asst. Prof., Dept. of English, VR Siddhartha Engineering College, Kanuru was the Resource Person. Ms. S. Santha Kumari, Lecturer, Dept. of English invited the Guest on to the dais and Ms. S. Hema Sri Vani, II B.Sc. (DS) introduced the Resource Person.

Dr. Neelambaram began his Lecture on Technical English, with the origins of English Language and its history, evolution and the influences of other European languages on English. Later, he touched upon how this spoken language has evolved as written manuscripts with the invention of John Guttenberg’s printing press and Caxton setting up the first printing press at West Minister Abbey, which brought forth the Bible and other religious texts.

According to him, this evolutionary process later on spread to many other countries, where in the English speaking community spread its religion through trade and Commerce relationships with other linguistic communities by imposing English as the official language.

Dr. Neelambaram in his lecture emphasized on the role and significance of improving vocabulary. Then he focused on technical English and ESP and connected them, with technical writing and technical jorgan with examples.

After concluding his lecture a fifteen minute Q & A Session with the resource person was held and students from II B.Sc. (IoT), (Data Science), (MPCS) interacted enthusiastically. The lecture ended with the vote of thanks by Ms. S. Santha Kumari followed by National Anthem.
