

Faculty Development Programme on 'Current Research Opportunities'

20.04.2022

Organized by: IQAC

REPORT

To create awareness on 'Current Research Opportunities', IQAC has organized a Faculty Development Programme on current research opportunities to all the science faculty members on 20th April, 2022 by Dr. G. Seetha Rama Raju, Asst. Prof., Dept. of Energy & Materials Engineering, Donguk University, Seoul, South Korea.

In this programme he explained about his nature of work in research and how to apply research proposals to various funding bodies. He also told about the quality of work doing in South Korea in the field of research and the opportunities for researchers in South Korea. He cleared all the queries raised by the faculty about research publications, research support services and how to improve research quality.
