Students should be educated on the base of impartiality and should be educated to go according to the natural acceptance. The natural acceptance is a faculty which is present in every one. If we observe it with self – verification we can see it . So every proposal which is naturally acceptable to us is true for us. One should educate the children in families and in educational institutions to follow the voice of self which is also called as natural acceptance. Following the voice of self leads to happiness in the Individual life, family life and also in social life. All the desires are under the influence of various assumptions and impressions of several aspects. If we understand that these assumptions and beliefs are contradictory to our natural acceptance, it means they are against happiness.
